Know-Nothing Schemes--Humphrey The great sim of the Know-Nothing party, as is perfectly evident to every one who will look partially upon the present contest, is to throw the election of President into the House. Of this fact we wish to convince every man who is not already satisfied upon the point, and then to show the imminent danger resting upon the ocdent disposition, evinced at present on the part the street? Even so. The fence was old, rotty South into the encouragement of loose opin- in and out at pleasure. The tombstones lay gang of ruffians who are in the habit of insultsimpleitests. If so, let the Know-Nothing party answer as to their ticket in Indiana, and the numerous left to fight single handed, not only the traitorous Abelitionists, but too often against these in-Know-Nothing force. There would seem, and from the facts daily developing themselves in the speeches of the Know-Nothing leaders of this defacement. State, there is little room left to doubt, that there is a full understanding between the leaders of the two parties opposing the Democracy, by which the full strength of the two combined Democratic convention; thus for instance, in the States in which it appears that Fremont place, and when Fillmore has the ascendancy cluded thus: the friends of Fremont by common consent the common enemy, and they are willing to can: se upon the slight differences which divide them to effect his defeat. Between the doctrines of Fremont and of Buchanan Humphrey Marshall declares that he would not give with a depth of blaschemy which his own blasphemous tongue only can excel, "that God Alighty never did make the day on which he would vote for Buchanan's crooked neck," leaving the inference as plain as day light, that he

To effect this the party have cause in New York has sustained an injury by this extra assumption of Southern fidelity, and the South as a whole being hopeless they have determined to take more Northern grounds, they were strong enough to make the issue here as it would also secure them the Fremont vote. While, therefore, they estimate that Kentucky and Delaware will not be endangered, they calculate upon a reversion in their favor in New that it is a bid for Fremont fusion in a House This may be speculation, but it is sustained by facts which warrant the assumption. It is evident that even one State may suffice to throw the election into the House. We have iterated too often the dangers of an Abolition election, to require a lengthy repetition. A Union of the Fremont and Fillmore men in the House would elect one of them over Buchanan on the first ballot. This needs no argument to prevent the Fillmore men from voting for Fremont? Is it the expressed will of the States Ah, but that has been too often violated to be relied upon. Is it the moral or political integrity of the men themselves? It is, and this is the only safe-guard we have. The Fillmore made her "nockle thru her hole," as he said, when he came panting back to his companion.

Turning to leave, we passed, near the southern entrance, a grave, as the epitaph informed us, of a faithful public servant, who, after doing his upon the avowal of the Kentucky leaders that duty to his "fellow-citizens," the world and himself, at last rested well.

At the vacant corner of a street far down town, we noticed a crowd of Sabbath-breaking boys engaged in throwing stones at a post to which was attached at the top a short cross-piece. It York and other Northern votes, at the same time | was near the centre of the lot, and from its appearance on closer inspection, was placed there as a "mile-post," or "finger board," when that part of the city of Louisville was in the country, and the now busy street a silent, lonely country path, leading to-the Lord knows where, and traced by-the Lord knows who.

The old post was evidently made of more enduring stuff than the "monumental marbles" we had just left. Here there was a little stick of timber, exposed to all things-brickbats included-coeval, perhaps, with the beginning of Louisville; and a grave-yard that looked as old as antiquity itself, in a city hardly old enough to have within its limits a [generation of grand-

> Mr. Morton, the candidate of the people's candidate -Lou. Journal.

The only answer necessary to this infamous form totally and unequivocally making one of the most brilliant and energetic canvasses ever witnessed in defense of the rights of the South and of the Union, Morton, the Abolition candidate, the Louisville Journal's candidate, the Fillmore and Donelson candidate, is denouncing the South with all the violence his foul mouth

A BASE CALUMNY .- The Journal of yesterday Monday evening was committed by Democrats.

BUCHANAN AT HOME.-It is well known that Lancaster county, the residence of Mr. Buchanan has, for years past, cast from four to six thousand majority against the Democracy. The following from the Lancaster Intelligencer, will show how the Democratic candidate stands at home:

On the 16th inst., in Rodolpho Township, Mr. Benjamin Brubeker was raising a large Barn, at which eighty men in all were present. A proposition was made to take a vote on the Presidenwere, in many instances, so lightly covered that tial question. The result was seventy-nine for James Buchanan—the other would not vote, bu finally said he would give Buck and Breck a hoist

Washington and Clay, Jackson and Webster, and a host of really great men besides, with almost superhuman power. They brough to the discussion an order of manliness-a type of patriotism-a sublimity of moral courage men of this day. I am not ashamed to sit at to perpetuate blessings so inappreciable great as the people of this country now enjoy."

A: Forgery. The following paragraph is going the rounds of the Know Nothing papers :

"Gen. Jeckson, in a letter to Gen. Armstrong, Polk's determination to appoint Buchanan his cretary of State.) I felt it my duty to warn him against Buchanan, whether it was agreeable Mr. Polk will find Mr. Buchanan an unreliable man. I know him well, and Mr. Polk gists and dealers generally.

Gen. Armstrong's administrator and his im mediate family know nothing of the existence of there was no cure for a cancer, as I had consultany such letter and do not hesitate to pronounce it a base forgery.

DISTINGUISHED ARRIVAL .- We learn from a private letter written by an officer of the British my, who covered himself with glory at Balak lava, that General Sir William Eyre has arrived in this country, and is now making a tour through the States. It will be recolected that Gen. Eyre led the Third Division of the English Army to the gates of Sebastopol on the 18th June, 1855. He was called upon by the commander of the troops to give his reasons in writ-ting for having lost so many men on that disstrous day. His answer was briefly and brave y this:

receipt of your letter; and in reply beg to state, that you ordered me to take the Cemetery, and I WM. EYRE." His arrival in this city will stir up a good deal of enthusiasm among our hero-worshipping citizens.—N. Y. Mirror.

A DRED-FUL AFFAIR. - The publishers of Mrs Stowe's new abolition novel, "Dred," expected to sell 25,000 copies at the recent Trade Sales. They made out to dispose of 300, all told. The abolition novel business has evidently collapsed and "Dred" is a dreadful failure.

DR. BEALE'S ARCTIC REGIONS AT MOZART HALL. Among the recent and perhaps the most interesting discoveries in art and sciences, that of conveying to canvas the startling events of battle scenes, and illustrating some striking prominent features of nature, is among the most astonishing. Distant scenes, likeness of individuals, miniature views of battle fields, the wild and ice-bound regions of the frigid zone, with their snow-capped pyramids of ice, impress us with a reverence for Deity, while it displays His omnipotent and omnipressent powers in "mind," here on earth, to awaken worlds within a world! The poet, the sculptor, the musician and painter, are the attributes of "mind," in the great work of near-

The infamous conduct of the black republican abolitionists at Concord has produced an excitement of indignation throughout New Hampshire that will result in one of the proud est triumphs, in the reception of the President ever known to the democrats of the Granite Hills. The sterling people of the country towns are aroused at the insult offered their distinguished fellow-citizen, and are preparing to render him a greeting that will prove the enthusiasm, patriotism, and State pride of their honest hearts. The arrangements for the President's reception are on a scale worthy of the occasion, and everything indicates a most gratifying re-

Doctor James Williams:—For several years past, I have been liable to attacks of Dyspepsia; but never have I been nove distressingly afflicted with its symptoms, than within the last few weeks. Indigestion, nervous irritability, despondency, a sense of weigat in the stomach, and severe pains in the left side, rendering me, for the time being, truly wretched. Fortanately, I was recommended by a friend to try your Elaxir. I did so, and in less than two weeks, indigestion ceased; pain and nervous depression left me, and appetite, with mental and bodily health, were fully restored. To me the cure seemed almost mirraculous, and my object in writing to you is—a hope that other persons suffering the miseries of Dyspepsis will avail themselves of your efficient remedy.
